It's all happening at Christchurch Hospital – from today

With the appointment of Schick Contracting and Cartage to carry out site preparation work within the Christchurch Hospital grounds, you can expect to see some changes around Christchurch Hospital over the coming weeks.

The site preparation work marks the first tangible signs of development ahead of construction of the new Acute Services building on the Christchurch Hospital campus. The government has committed over $650m to develop new facilities at both Christchurch and Burwood Hospitals. This is the largest investment in public health facilities in New Zealand.

This week

Work starts today, Monday 29 September on a carefully staged reorganisation of the traffic flows at the front of Christchurch Hospital.

- The current one way roading system around the hospital will be converted to accommodate two way traffic once the road has been widened.
- Additional mobility car parks and cycle parks will be created at the front of the hospital.

This work will be done in small sections to minimise disruption to normal traffic flows. This work is expected to take until the end of October. It's important to note that the current car park at the rear of the site will still be available to patients and visitors during this time. These initial site works will temporarily limit access to a small number of car parks at the front of the hospital.

There will be trucks and heavy machinery within the hospital grounds, so pedestrians and cyclists are asked to take extra care.

Other work to be carried out over the next month includes moving underground pipes and cables, site clearing including some tree felling, and erecting fences around the construction site.

From Tuesday 28 October

From Tuesday 28 October there will be 150 fewer car parks on the Christchurch Hospital site.

Canterbury DHB's new Park & Ride shuttle service will start on Tuesday 28 October It will operate from 7am – 8:30pm seven days a week.

People should drive to the car park on the corner of St Asaph & Antigua Streets (the site of the former brewery – and site of the planned Metro Sports Facility). Parking costs $2 per hour or $5 per day. You can then catch a free shuttle ride to Christchurch Hospital. The pick-up point will be clearly marked by a ship-

Shuttle buses will leave every 10 -15 minutes, stopping at Hagley Outpatients and the main entrance to Christchurch Hospital.

Patients and visitors can then catch a free shuttle ride back to their car when they're ready. Pick up will be from shuttle stops near the main hospital entrance and Hagley Outpatients.

A designated drop-off zone will be in use from Tuesday 28 October ping container – which will provide shelter for shuttle riders.

A dedicated drop off zone to be located outside the main entrance will be up and running on Tuesday 28 October.

If you're a patient, a family member or friend can drop you off close to the main entrance. Volunteers will be on hand during the day to assist people who are dropped off. Your driver can then make use of the shuttle service, or come back later to collect you.

More mobility parking will be available close to the main entrance in late October along with additional bike rack facilities.

While excited about having new state of the art hospital facilities, the next few years will be challenging.

Construction has to take place alongside the day-to-day operation of a busy tertiary hospital. We have a relatively small site to accommodate 4000+ people a day coming on to the site, along with the contractors and their machinery.

We are asking able-bodied visitors to the hospital and our own staff to do their bit by choosing alternative forms of transport wherever possible. If you are fit and able, consider using one of the many buses that stop right outside the hospital entrance. More staff could consider biking or car-pooling to work.

More information about parking and other transport options can be found on the CDHB website – cdhb.health.nz/parking

Background information on the new Acute Services Building

Scheduled to open in 2018, the Acute Services Building will comprise a three storey podium housing the majority of Christchurch Hospital's acute facilities and clinical support areas. Above the podium will be inpatient ward blocks over six upper floors. Two ward blocks will be built as part of this project, providing approximately 400 beds initially. Space on the podium will be left for a third block to provide additional ward capacity at some stage in the future.

The plant, such as air conditioning, oxygen and gases will be located on Level 2. Below this on Level 1 are the operating theatres and intensive care unit, with the Emergency Department, Radiology and Acute Medical Assessment Unit on the Ground Floor. The two six-level towers will house inpatient floors as well as inpatient units for paediatric, a bone marrow treatment unit and the Child Haematology Oncology Unit (CHOC). It's estimated that this will create a total of 62,000m2 of new hospital space.

The building will be built to Importance Level 4 standards (180% of code) and will be base isolated. It will also feature purpose-designed spaces for children and a helipad.

Have a great week, David Meates

Appointment of General Manager People & Capability - Canterbury & West Coast DHBs

I am delighted to announce the appointment of Michael Frampton to the position of General Manager People and Capability for the Canterbury DHB and West Coast DHB, effective 6 October 2014.

Michael will be known to many of you. Since July 2012, he has held the position of Programme Director for West Coast DHB. In this role he has worked successfully with the executive teams on the West Coast and Canterbury to lead and drive the programme of change to transform West Coast health services.

Michael Frampton

Before beginning in health, Michael's career was focused on the building of human capability. He worked on a range of leadership and capability building challenges in industries including telecommunications, energy, financial services, manufacturing and the public sector, with work experience in Asia and the Pacific, North America and New Zealand. His previous roles have seen him design frameworks for raising competence and capability, leading whole-of-industry change, and leading multi-disciplinary project teams to manage complex whole-of-system change.

Michael's career demonstrates his ability to grow the capability of businesses, teams and individuals through effective partnering. He has been successful in building and sustaining change orientation; delivering executive leadership, and developing and implementing strategy. He is adept at cultivating and nurturing relationships and aligning people and teams with vision and direction. These elements are at the heart of the re-positioned People and Capability function.

Given Michael's leadership within the West Coast health system, his relationships with stakeholders and his leadership of the facilities development programme on the Coast, he will assume the role of GM People and Capability while continuing as West Coast DHB Programme Director over a transition period. This will require Michael to have a weekly presence in both Canterbury and West Coast.

All West Coast DHB reporting lines will remain unchanged over the transition period.

Burwood

Another major concrete pour is underway at the Burwood site, for one of the ward "fingers". Concrete trucks began arriving today, Monday 29 September, starting at 4am. Local residents are always notified by the contractor, Leighs Cockram JV, ahead of any major out-of-hours work, as is best practice. Finishing work on the concrete will continue until 11 pm.

The picture below shows that the Back of House building is really starting to take shape.

The ward blocks are now a forest of concrete columns (see below). The last of the ward columns are on track to be put in place by October 17.

A reminder that Gate 1 off Mairehau Rd is currently closed, other than for emergency access, until works to install a sewer pipe have been completed.

Christchurch

This week the contractor for the site works was announced by the Ministry of Health. The Hamilton-based firm Schick Cartage and Construction – which also has offices in Christchurch – has been awarded the contract.

Site work is beginning today, Monday 29 September. To begin with, Schick's staff will set up site offices near the Riverside entrance, and site fences at the far side of the site bordering the park.

The first part of the work will be a carefully staged reorganisation of the traffic flows at the front of the hospital. This work will be done in small sections to minimise disruption and is expected to take until the end of October. The current public car park at the rear of the site will still be available to patients and visitors during this time.

The first section of the traffic flow work will be to level and re-organise the four public car parking spaces at the corner of the site near Oxford Terrace, opposite the entrance to the Emergency Department. Staff who walk or bike across the Rolleston Avenue bridge or around the Oxford Terrace intersection should please take extra care while the works are going on.

Once into their stride, the site works will also include the relocation of underground pipes and cables, installation of new sewer tanks, removal of some trees on the site, installation of more permanent hoardings, and excavation in preparation for the ASB's foundations.

We will bring you weekly updates of progress and work to come, via Fast Facts.

Ward 11, Christchurch Hospital

I loved the treatment, nurses were so lovely, so friendly. Nothing I would change about it. You are awesome.

Emergency Department, Ward 10, Christchurch Hospital

I ended up in hospital after an accident and found all the staff amazing from the ED to Ward 10 where I ended up. They were all so friendly and kind. Thank you so much everyone, you made my stay so much easier.

Day Surgery Unit, Christchurch Women's Hospital

A big thank you again to the team at the Day Surgery Unit and Urology. Everyone was so friendly! I really appreciated the care and attention I received. I felt listened to, welcomed, that my needs were considered and like an 'individual' not just another patient. Thank you so much.

Ward 16, Christchurch Hospital

Big Bouquet! I was admitted at 10am and given a bed at 11am. Colonoscopy at 11.15am. Now Sat 11.30am waiting for Doctor and hopefully go back to resthome where I live. Am very impressed and very thankful for the wonderful care and concern I have received. Truly is amazing!

Nursing staff so understanding, efficient and very capable, kind, always ready to listen and help at any time. Bell is answered promptly. I want to thank everyone for this. May be back next week for more serious surgery, not quite so worried now.

Stroke Unit, Ward 24, Christchurch Hospital

I was at a funeral recently. The deceased's son spoke of how his dad and their family were so well cared for on Ward 24, and that if you have a stroke, Christchurch is the place to have it so you can be looked after on Ward 24. Well done guys.

Ward 16 and Security, Christchurch Hospital

As always I was very happy with how the ward treated me. The nurse sat with me and waited until the taxi arrived. And the security guard was lovely, calling the taxi for me and being very protective.

Ward 16, Christchurch Hospital

Excellent skill and attention. Warm and caring.

AMAU, Christchurch Hospital

I have often heard it remarked that nurses have a thankless task but in my experience I think their consideration to patients is far above reproach. Well done girls.

Food service, Christchurch Hospital

I would like to compliment the hospital on the improvement of the menu. Enjoyed everything I was given (even on a special diet). Dietitian (Catherine) was also fabulous to deal with. A male meal deliverer was also particularly nice.

Ward 11, Christchurch Hospital

I want to thank all the nurses/staff at Ward 11. I came in with an appendicitis and they made what was an unpleasant experience a lot better and I want to thank them for that. Night staff/day staff, they were all fantastic! Thank you.

Communications Team, Corporate Communications

I want to congratulate you and your team (and David, of course) for the CEO Update. I always find it extremely interesting and informative. In last week's edition the video links about lymphoma, and David Galler talking about his mother's death were excellent. Keep up the good work.

Cervical Screening

Just a wee personal email to say thank you for all the cervical smear information you've been sending out - it has worked! For me at least – just went for my first smear in 10 years!

Christchurch Hospital Staff

our health system

Earlier in the week a man collapsed outside Christchurch Hospital. A staff member who witnessed the incident would like to pass on how impressed they were with how staff came running to help and how supportive they were with the person's family member. Well done to all involved.

Be part of the MPBE $10,000 Health Innovation Challenge

If you have a clinical challenge and think you may know of a solution but lack the technical expertise or funding to make it a reality, then we can help.

The Medical Physics Bioengineering team is a group of tech savvy guys who have been working quietly behind the scenes at CDHB for many years. They've helped countless clinical teams to design, create and re-design medical equipment so it better meets the needs of our patients and the health professionals who look after them.

The MPBE $10,000 Health Innovation Challenge, offered in association with Via Innovations, is open to everyone in the Canterbury Health System who has an idea about improving patient care. The winner/s will receive $10,000 worth of development time, materials and marketing to help make their idea a reality. 'Runner-up' projects may also be considered for development.

The challenge will run in November – more information will become available over the next couple of weeks including an official entry form. News from the Clinical Board Ensuring reviews of serious incidents are aligned across our health system is a key priority for Canterbury DHB Clinical Board.

At its meeting this month the board reviewed reports from Corporate Incident Review Group and the Canterbury DHB Risk Reports.

Dr Daniel Williams, Clinical Board chair says the board discussed the importance of reviews of serious incidents being joined up across our system, including primary care.

"We think it's really important that when serious incidents occur the Root Cause Analysis is consistent across the system and properly aligned. This helps to ensure best practice so everyone is on the same page when it comes to managing care and investigating such events," Dr Williams says.

The board also listened to the value the new Patient Safety Officer is adding to Mental Health Services.

The Clinical Board agreed on the Terms of Reference for the new Sustainability Steering Group. The group has been appointed by the Chief Executive to co-ordinate work within the Canterbury Health System to mitigate and minimise environmental harm while supporting a health promoting health system.

It will oversee the work of our Sustainability Officer and will be chaired by Dr Anna Stevenson, public health physician, Community and Public Health division, and will report to the Clinical Board.

Now's a good time to have a Cervical Smear

Cervical Screening Awareness month is nearing its end but it's not too late to have a cervical smear.

Screening rates for Māori, Pacific and Asian women are around 10 to 20 percent lower than other groups – so these women are a particular priority. A cervical smear is all about finding changes early. The sooner the presence of abnormal cells is detected, the sooner a woman can be treated and the better the likely outcome.

Some women may choose not to have a smear for a variety of reasons including cost, potential embarrassment, what might happen if cancer is detected and problems with getting to a clinic. Check the following videos to get answers to any questions you may have.

Is it worth the struggle? Alcohol Law Reform in New Zealand : progress and pitfalls

We warmly invite you to attend the Health Outcomes Grand Round. This Grand Round has been set up to build a broader, agreed vision of population health outcomes in the Auckland region.

When:	Wednesday 12 November 2014
Time:	12 - 1pm
Where:	Clinical Education Centre Auditorium, Auckland City Hospital

Presenter - Professor J. Douglas Sellman MB ChB PhD (Otago) FRANZCP FACHAM Professor Sellman is Director of the National Addiction Centre, Christchurch School of Medicine & Health Sciences, Professor within the University of Otago, and consultant psychiatrist to the alcohol and drug stream of the Youth Specialty Service in Christchurch.

Ebola Procedures and Protocols in place

Confirmed and suspected cases of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) continue to be reported in Guinea, Liberia, Sierra Leone and Nigeria.

It is very unlikely that New Zealand will have a case of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) because of our geographic isolation and the lack of direct flights from the affected countries. Nevertheless it is prudent to prepare for such an eventuality, and several measures have been put in place to minimise the potential impact of EVD.

Border control staff at Christchurch International Airport are being regularly briefed on early and advanced symptoms of EVD, and an alerting protocol for airline and airport staff has been established with Community and Public Health (C&PH).

The Ministry of Health has established protocols for tracing and managing contacts of suspected or confirmed EVD cases. Senior Clinicians, nurse managers and infection control specialists within CDHB have specific Ebola patient transport and care procedures.

Subject: The endovascular revolution for management of abdominal aortic aneurysms poses challenging questions. Increasingly sophisticated technical solutions to management of AAA previously treated conservatively on basis of individual balance of risk now allows relatively safe repair in the face of significant co-morbidity and advanced age. The limits to provision of this treatment may now need to be defined more in terms of resource availability rather than individual benefit. This is challenging for a life-sustaining treatment.

What does your job involve?

I have been a nurse for quite a while, working in the Intensive Care Unit in Christchurch Hospital and for many years in the Emergency Department, both in Christchurch and in the United Kingdom (UK), we escaped from the UK to New Zealand in 2003.

I've been seconded to the Facilities Development project for six months from my usual role as Clinical Team Coordinator for the After Hours Team. The new Acute Services building at the Christchurch campus will require some changes to the way we work in and around the existing buildings. My role is to provide clinical feedback both to and from those who will be affected by the changes.

Why did you choose to work in this field?

The secondment opportunity sounded quite challenging and is a completely new area for me so many people around, and so much daylight. Being able to have weekends and nights off (so far) had no influence on my decision at all – honest!

What do you love about it?

There is a great feeling of "can do" about the whole team.

What are the challenging bits?

When we "can't do"!! Sometimes decisions about the changes being made are the least-worst alternative and forced upon us by the confines of the site. Encouraging users to see the long-term aim can be challenging.

Who do you most admire in a professional capacity at work, and why?

The clinical team co-ordinators are some of the most supportive, knowledgeable and dedicated people it has ever been my privilege to work with.

The last book I read was...

I Am Pilgrim, a thriller by Terry Hayes . I don't read books to improve my intellectual self (how could I?) – pure escapism is what I look for in a book.

If I could be anywhere in the world right now it would be...

Northburn Station Winery, mid-summer, glass of pinot noir in hand – bliss (with my partner of course!).

My ultimate Sunday would involve...

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday etc!

One food I really dislike is...

Cooked cheese – yuk.

My favourite music is...

Very eclectic tastes. Radiohead, Mary Gauthier, Rhian, Sheehan, Fleetwood Mac.

If you would like to take part in this column or would like to nominate someone please contact Naomi.Gilling@cdhb.health.nz.
