

Public Health Nursing Service

Community Based Free Health Support for Children/Tamariki

Public Health Nurses (PHN)

- Registered Nurses who have knowledge, experience and training in child/tamariki and family/whanau health.
- Work alongside children/tamariki young people, parents, caregivers and school staff.
- Liaise with general practice, specialists and other service providers.

What we do

- Connect with schools on a regular basis.
- Support families/whanau and children/tamariki when health issues impact on home and/or school.
- Refer to appropriate support services when indicated.
- Provide appointment only Student Health Clinics in secondary schools where there is indicated need.
- Support health promotion and education activities in schools and Early Childhood Education Centres.
- Provide 0-5 Well Child Services in Kaikoura and Banks Peninsula areas.
- BCG (Tuberculosis) Vaccination Service
- B4 School Checks
- Year 8 School Based Vaccination Programme

Referral criteria

Health-related concerns that impact on the child/tamariki well-being at home or school

Examples:

- Allergies/Anaphylaxis
- Hearing and/or vision concerns
- Medical conditions
eg. asthma, skin conditions, weight
- Day/night time wetting, soiling

Referrals

Referrals can be made for school age children/tamariki with health concerns or from 4½ years when these concerns may impact on starting school.

- Written referrals must be on a Public Health Nursing Service referral form (available on the CDHB website, HealthPathways, Leading Lights).
- All referrals are to have verbal or written consent of the parent/caregiver. Consent must be obtained before the Public Health Nurse can make contact with the parent/caregiver.

Who can refer

Anyone can contact the service including:

- School staff and students
- Parents/whanau
- Health professionals
- Support agencies and NGO providers
